OEHLERT GETS SIX MONTHS IN JAIL

Jury Brings in a Verdict of Involuntary Manslaughter

JURY OUT TWO HOURS

Third Trial of Man Who Shot and Killed Linwood Kidwell November 12, 1918.

After the close yesterday afternoon of the Gazette's report of the third trial of William H. Oehlert, charged with shooting and killing Linwood Kidwell at the yard office of the Southern Railway in this city on the night of November 12, 1918, witnesses for the defense were placed upon the stand. Most of these had testified on previous trials, and in the main, their testimony related to alleged friendly relations which existed between Oehlert and Kidwell previous to the shooting.

Towards the close of the afternoon a recess was taken until 6.30 o'clock, when the examination of witnesses continued until 10.30 last night, when court adjourned until this morning.

Upon reassembling today several witnesses in rebuttal were placed the stand by the commonwealth.

Instructions to the jury were subsequently prepared and submitted and the case was given to the jury at eleven o'clock. The jury had requested that the case be submitted without arguments.

Shortly after one o'clock the jury returned to the court room and announced that they had reached a verdict. It was handed to the clerk who read it aloud. "We, the jury, find the accused guilty of involuntary manslaughter, and fix his punishment a six months in the city jail."

The jury was then discharged with the thanks of the court, and thus was brought to a close a case which has been on the docket of the Corporation Court for over ten months.

Oehlert has already served four months in jail, not having been able to secure a bond of $10,000. Later however, bail was fixed at $2,500 which he furnished.

The time he served in jail will be put to his credit, while a certain number of days will be allowed for his good behavior during his confinement; since the actual time he will serve under the sentence today will be eight days.

CATHOLIC BOY SCOUTS

Organizations in Every Parish Under Way—R. L. Carne Heads Local Scouts

Upon the initiative of the National Catholic War Council, the formation of the Boy Scout Oraginzation in every Catholic Parish throughout the United States is now under way. The Council, which has been casting about for a solution of the problem of taking care of young boys and providing for them whole some and profitable diversion, has decided that the Boy Scouts meet the requirements of the situation better than any other organization that could be divised; and an effort is being made to stimulate the enrollment of Catholic boys in it.

A campaign for the extension of the organization among Catholic parishes is now being undertaken by Frank J. Little, Field Secretary for the National Catholic War Council, having as his district the state of Virginia. The present movement has the hearty approval of the Right Reverend Denis Joseph O'Connell, D. D., Bishop of Richmond.

It is evident, from what has already been done, that the idea has impressed many pastors very favorably. More than 400 inquiries have been received by the War Council asking for information as to the methods of organization. This pamphlet has now been prepared, and will be sent out to our agencies. It may laso be obtained by addressing Francis A. McCann, Secretary, Catholic Boy Scout Bureau, National Catholic War Council, 1312 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Alexandria has the honor of already having established a Catholic Troop of Boy Scouts, having their headquarters in St. Mary's Church, under the direction of R. L. Carne, Scoutmaster. Mr. Carne is very anxious to include in his troop all Catholic Boys who will care to affiliate with his troop. Catholic Scout Masters are also needed and anyone desiring to act in that capacity are invited to get in touch with Mr. Carne. Independent troops of Catholic boys may be established by the local Knights of Columbus, under their leadership. St. Joseph's Parish should have a Troop, and efforts will be directed in that direction.

DEATH COULD HAVE BEEN AVOIDED

Coroner's Jury Probes Death of Brakeman Wm. G. Brown

COLLISION AT TIME

Both Trains Had Right of Way at Potomac Yards It Was Testified by Eight Witnesses.

After examining eight witnesses, all of whom were railroad men, a coroner's jury, summoned by Dr. T. M. Jones, which met this morning at 11 o'clock at Wheatley's mortuary chapel to investigate the circumstances attending the death of William G. Brown, freight brakeman, who was killed at the Potomac yards gave a verdict as follows.

"Hns death was caused by a collision in the Potomac yards about 1.30 p. m., September 19 his skull being fractured and died at Alexandria Hospital about 1.30 a. m., September 20 and in the opinion of the jury his death could have been avoided.

The jury was composed of the following Irving Lindsey, foreman; Frank A. Church. A. H. Schwarzmann, Vance H. Peele, W. T. Duncan, Ray H. Cleveland.

R. H. Huntington, fireman of engine 113 which train Brown was working on, was the first to testify. His testimony was that train 109 ran into the train of which he was fireman Both trains at the time had right of way he testified.

J. J. Terry, conductor of the train on which Brown was on told the jury that he was not on the train at the time.

G. E. Tesh, brakeman of the train Brown was on, testified he was on the rear end of the train; said the train consisted of ten cars, there was no signal to protect crossing, and that his train was going about four to six miles per hour.

G. F. Birrell, brakeman, who that night was acting conductor of train 109, testified that his train was made up of seventeen cars and was going about four to six miles per hour. Everything possible was done to avoid the acident and afterward he jumped. At the point where the accident happened he said there is a searchlight which is blinding and it obscures the view until you get right on it.

Witness saw Brown as he shut off signal he said.

E. W. Rouse, brakeman of train 109, said he was unable to see anything for the reflection and when the car was observed they started to shut off and the brakeman on 113 also shut off. Witness added that had it not been for the light they would have seen the other train. The light he declared is so strong it is blinding.

Roy Hackett, brakeman of train 109 described where he was on the train at the time and the train's movement.

J. E. Rowlett, engineer of the train 109, told of receiving a signal to stop. Witness declared there was nothing unusal about the collision other than a jar similar to those caused by a sudden stopping of a train.

J. B. Menderis, fireman, of train 109, also testified. Witness, however, knew none of the details of the affair.

SIX HOURS OF DEBATE

Plenty of Action, But Crowds in Galleries Heed Warning to Keep Silent

Washington, D. C., Sept. 27.—The German peace treaty got nearly six hours of speeding up in the Senate yesterday, but without reaching the Fall amendments which had been made the special order of business by a strict party vote earlier in the week.

Chairman Lodge, of the Foreign Relations Committee, called up the pact two hours ahead of the regular schedule, and from that time until adjournment it was discussed continually, with a big crowd looking on from the galleries and afraid to cheer because of ominious warning from guards with orders to eject those who made a noise with hand or feet.

BRITAIN TO FIGHT STRIKE

To Use Armed Force if Found Necessary

London, Sept. 27.— Government takes the view that the railroad strike must be fought with every facility at its command, even to the employment of armed forces if necessary. The War Offices announced that it would be necessary to suspend demobilization of the army and cancel all leaves of absence forthwith.

The Government looks on the strike as a threat against the life of the community. While it does not propose to take over and operate the railways, the Government asserts it will protect any men volunteering for railway service.

CONVENTION FOR POLICE

Gompers Asked to Call a Meeting of All Unions by John B. Colpoys

In view of the edict of Commissioner Brownlow against policemen being members of a union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, John B. Colpoys, labor leader an deditor of the Trades Union list, has proposed to Samuel Gompers and the other officials of the American Federation of Labor, that a convention of delegates from the numerous local unions of policemen be held in Washington at an early date. At the convention it is proposed to form a national body of representatives of such police unions to be affiliated with the A. F. L.

Colpoys believes that with a national organization of policemen and the moral and financial support of the American Federation of Labor, of which it will be an affiliated unit, the police problem can be solved in quick order.

It is pointed out that there is a national union of police chiefs, of which Major Pullman is an officer and member.

THE STRIKE MENACE

An examination of reports as to conditions at various steel mills shows that the mobs and not the strike order is what is making trouble for them. With the gates of teh big plants stromed by violent throngs, with men who want to work assaulted and otherwise terrorized, and with the police overborne, order and industry become impossible, even when those who adhere to them are in the majority.

As the New York World says, "these are the forces which strikes such as this always let loose. In spite of all fine words by leaders who know precisely what to expect, it is the persuasion of the bludgeon, the missile or the revolver rather than any cessation of toil upon which the success of their revolt depends. To quit work does not suffice. The underlying theory of the strike is that nobody shall work, and thus an enterprise, lawful at the start, quickly becomes lawless and insurrectionary. It must be that wrongs so glaring and so intolerable, amounting to civil strife, are unnecessary among self-governing peoples. Liberty to quit work in concert carries with it no license to promote conspiracy and rebellion and no right to establish the dictatorship of a class. Government which cannot or will not meet this issue at the threshhold can never be secure."

A writer in a Baltimore paper in teh above connection says:

"The question resolves itself into this one: Does the American workman owe greater allegiance to his Government, as also to the corporation with which he has contracted, or to a union? Is his pledged word to be treated as a "scrap of paper" or is it to be held sacred? Are we to be ruled by a syndicate or by a republic? The present contest is either a blow at our Constiuttion or it will eventuate in the assurance of protection to our national freedom. Of course, we know that the union is always opposed to peaceful contacts between employer and employe, because this would weaken the strength of its organization, and to further its own ambitious ends it foments discord and sets up strikes. No doubt, many sensible workingmen of American birth and principle are, in their hearts, opposed to this cry of the horse-leech's daughter. Give, give, and to the call of the agitator. Strike, strike, but they are overborne by numbers and coercion, and against their will float with the stream. Like Germany, the union is never a peacemaker, but is a stirrer-up of enmity, and finds the ignorant alien fuel always ready to its hand. The union is not aiming at the good of the workman, because we know that the latter is a prosperous member at the present writing of the community. The union is all for power and ambition and it will, like Prussia, overreach itself.

ANXIETY IN RICHMOND

Drawn confilct between the "closed shop" and the "open shop" threatens to engulf Richmond within the next week, bringing with it a sudden halt to the widespread building operations with which city actively and in buoyart hope entered the reconstruction period. Organized labor, through the Building Trades' Council, has served its ultimatum that no man may work at the building trade in Richmond unless he carries a union card. The penalty of noncompliance on the part of the contractors will be a strike, with its accompaniment of building stagnation and its possible extension to other industries.

The Times-Dispatch says "all of this is bad for Richmond, which for many years has been singularly and happily free from labor trouble. Effects of the controversy and threatened walkout already are apparent. This season has witnessed a period of almost unparallel building activity, despite the high costs of labor and material. In response to the crying public needs, private residences and apartments are springing up almost overnight in every section of the city. With the demand only fractionally met, an indefinte continuation of the activity, which spells general prosperity, might have been expected. But the union demand that no nonunion man be employed in Richmond is shocking, and promises to clog, the local wheels of industry. It is not altogether responsible for the sudden slowing up of building in Richmond, the further increase in the cost of materials having contributed to the same end, but it is a large, and perhaps a predominating, factor in an unfortunate situation.

Recognition of the union's right to say who shall and who shall not work in Richmond, is the issue. It is the same contention on which the great steel strike is based, and it is the underlying platform of cut this country and the world, to-organized labor's activity throughday."

CLASS LEGISLATION

It is gratifying to remark the existence in both branches of Congress of a feeling that the time has come to call a halt on the making of laws at the instance and for the benefit of any particular class or organization.

As the Philadelphia Inquirer says, "there can be on honest and intelligent denial of the principle that the enactment of legislation should be determined by an elightened and exclusive regard for the general welfare, but of recent years the violations of this fundamental axiom of republican government have been alarmingly numerous and flagrant.

"Congressmen have time and again been influenced in their action, not by the merits of some measure which has been proposed for their consideration, but by what they believed would be the political consequences to themslves of its acceptance or rejection. If the bill they were asked to pass was sponsored by some body which was credited with the ability to control a large number of votes they have not been careful to scrutinize its contents or to anticipate the natural results which would ensue from its enactment; and the consequence is that there is many a law upon the statute books today which, while it has advantaged some special elements, has worked injury and injustice to the community at large.

"Take as a conspicuous and edifying illustration of this regrettable circumstance the law which was enacted three years ago for the express, although unavowed, purpose of increasing the wages of certain railroad employees under the pretence of instituting an eight-hour working day. That was an instance of class legislation at its worst, and it would be difficult to exaggerate the mischievous and far-reaching effect of the humiliating surrender which it involved and of the dangerous precedent which it established. Who can doubt that the railroad brotherhoods had it in mind when a few weeks ago they served notice on Congress that their members were in no mood to brook the return of the railroads to private ownership, and when the scarcely veiled threat was made that unless their demands were granted the social and industrial life of the country would be paralyzed by a general railroad strike."

MAY BOLT "ROUND TABLE"

Washington, Sept. 27.—A bomb thus far unexploded, has been dropped in the scheme for a 'round-table' conference of capital and labor in this city October 6. The bomb took the form of a letter from representatives of the railroad workers' unions protesting against the conference plans, and—according to one report—proposing to reconsider their agreement to continue holding their threatened strikes in abeyance unless there is radical readjustment of the plans.

The letter was sent to Director General Hines, of the Railroad Administration. Whether he has forwarded it to President Wilson could not be learned at his office. Labor leaders here assumed Hines had done so when they learned that the President had cancelled the remainder of his speaking dates and was coming directly to Washington.

FIRE AIDS ACCUSED YOUTH

Court Breaks up and Detectives Spirit Boy Away

Richmond, Va., Sept. 27.—How fire bells broke up court in Rocky Mount, N. C., and enabled detectives to spirit away a Richmond youth who had aided them in recovering automobiles stolen here and sold in that city, was related yesterday by Detective Sergeants Atkinson and Thurman, when they returned to Richmond with two of the pilfered cars.

C. L. Eacho, Jr., the youth in question, had just been acquitted of selling automobiles to a Rocky Mount dealer under false pretenses. Just as the judge was ordering that additional warrants be issued the fire bells pealed forth with the result that every body rushed to the fire. The Richmond detectives seized the opportunity to leave town in two of the recovered cars with Eacho at the helm of one of them. The youth was arraigned in the police court today on the charge of stealing cars brought back, but it is doubtful whether the cases will be pressed against him. More likely, he will be used as a witness against Russell Clyborne, another alleged member of the gang, held here, and perhaps against three youths held in Norfolk. His case was over today until October 2.

HIGH WAGES, LESS EFFICIENCY

Some Boston authority, eminent, no doubt, but lost to memory at the moment, issued a statement which, dealing with labor production, took the ground that efficiency, after all, was the only accurate measure and wages were negligible. If wages, for example, increased 30 per cent. and efficiency increased 50 per cent., the situation was vastly improved. This is exiomatic, of course. Then the authority went on to assert, rather than to prove, that labor efficiency had enormously increased since the beginning of the war and there was nothing but optimsim to be spread out for our delectation.

Unfortunately the facts are not all in corroboration of the efficiency assertion. In the steel industry, commonly said to be the barometer of all industry, the reverse has been asserted. Reports by the several steel concerns, unverified as fas as we are concerned, show that since the beginning of the war steel wages have advanced an average of 170 per cent. and at the same time efficiency has decreased an average of 20 per cent. If this is true, the labor cost of the average ton of steel produced has increased approximatey 225 per cent.

The books of the steel corporation show that in 1902 it paid an average wage of $717 per man, or $14.70 per ton of steel produced, while in 1918 the average wage had increased to $1,685 and to $32.68 per ton of steel. The figures indicate a distinct lessening of labor efficiency at a time when increased production is acknowledged to be the world's greatest necessity.

DON'T LET THE "FLU" GET YOU THIS FALL

You Can Almost Surely Avoid That Dread Disease by Taking Chasco-Vin, a Most Palatable Body-Building Tonic

The terrible harvest reaped by the "flu" a year ago will last long in our memory. No one would have it recur at any cost hence all should take every precaution in time.

During the last epidemic thousands were safeguarded by taking Chasco-Vin, a body building tonic that does build.

It is the toning up of the system that counts in keeping the "Flu" away.

Those who are weak, nervous and run-down specially need Chasco-Vin.

In conjunction with Chasco-Vin we advise using a good antiseptic solution for the throat and nose and also that the bowels be kept regular.

Chasco-Vin is sold by Edgar Warfield, jr., King and Pitt Streets.

FACES ANOTHER DELAY

Several Weeks May Elapse Before Senate Takes Real Vote On Pact

Washington, Sept. 27.—Out of the confusion, manuevering, negotiation and discussion of peace there came yesterday two or three somewhat concrete facts.

First of all, no vote for the ratification of the treaty, for its amendment or for important reservations will come for many days, and perhaps several weeks.

Next, there is a group of Senators headed by Senator Borah, who are organizing a quiet but persistent filibuster against any action at this time a group that encouraged Senator Johnson, of California, to resume his speaking campaign with the assurance that nothing would happen in his absence.

Again, the condition is growing that if the President is permitted to write the reservations which are to be adopted, he will not maintain his rigid and uncompromising attitude to the end that the treaty will be held fast by a deadlock.

Finally, Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, the only Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee who refused to subscribe to the majority report, is the authority for the statement that the treaty will be ratified and that this will be done without the incorporation of a single reservation which will recommit the covenant to the Peace Conference.

There were certain incidental developments in the course of the day. Senator Cummins, for example, removed all doubt as to his attitude. He had been variously classed as a mild reservationist, a drastic reservationist a moderate and as an irreconcilable After his speech today, in which he pronounced his opposition to all amendments, but declared his unaltered opposition to Article X, it is found that he cannot be classified in any of the categories just indicated.

PRESIDENT GIVES UP TRIP

Returning to Washington at Once for Rest and Quiet

On Board President Wilson's special train, Sept. 27.—In a formal statement late yesterday afternoon Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the President's personal physician, said Mr. Wilson's condition was "not alarming," but he would require rest for a "considerable time."

At the same time Secretary Tumulty issued this statement "Upon the advice of Rear-Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the President's physician, it has become necessary to cancel all the President's engagements for the immediate future."

Dr. Grayson's Statement follows

"President Wilson's condition is due to overwork. The trouble dates back to an attack of influenza last April in Paris, from which he has never entirely recovered. The President's activities on this trip have overtaxed his strength and he is suffering from nervous exhaustion. His condition is not alarming, but it will be necessary for his recovery that he have rest and quiet for a considerable time."

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Mendorsville, Ky.,—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before.

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action leaving no bad after-efects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Alexandria residents desire more convincing proof of their effectiveness than the statement of an Alexandria citizen who has used them and willingly testifies to their worth.

Mrs. R. J. Ayers, 319 South Columbus St., says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills a valuable remedy. I have used them at different times when my back has been weak and lame and they have always given me good relief in a short time. Doan's seem to hit the right spot and I always recommend them to my friends."

HIT BY BOLT

Mlle. Guignet, a Swiss Beauty, Killed by Lightning

Sophie Guignet, 22 years old, a beauty of the village of Chatillens, near Lausanne, while seated in a room of her home alone amid her trousseau and presents of jewels yesterday, was killed by lightning in a violent thunderstorm.

Her parents, who were unharmed in a neighboring room, found their daughter dead, her head on a table, with love letters from her fiance and her wedding gown on fire.

The girl was to have been married today to a Geneva lawyer, who is heartbroken. The church had been decorated and the bridesmaids appointed. Notice that the ceremony would not take place was given while telegrams and letters of congratulation were arriving.

Mlle. Guignet's family is well known in the Canton Vaud.

Tom Mix in "Treat 'Em Rough," a cinema production based on the famous novel of "The Two Gun Man," written by Charles Alden Seltzer and produced by William Fox, will be the feature at the Grand Theatre for one day.

"Treat 'Em Rough," is said to be the greatest romance story of the western plains ever screend, and as the hero of this remarkable story. Tom Mix is seen at his best. His daring feats of horsemanship and gun play have made him one of the most admired stars in pictures. There is nothing too hazardous for this remarkable actor to attempt, as the bulldogging of a wild steer in "Treat 'Em Rough," will prove. Also Snakeville comedy.

RICHMOND TONIGHT

Portraying the role of a wealthy girl who is suddenly swept into the poorest of living conditions and a most sordid environment with semi-comic results. Mary Pickford will be seen in her second picture from her own studios in "The Hoodlum" at the Richmond Theatre tonight. This picture is an adaptation from "Burkeses' Amy" by Julie M. Lippman.

A large crowd witnessed the production last night. The picture is considered her best.

INGOMAR THEATRE

"This Hero Stuff" is a brilliant satirical comedy in five acts, starring William Russell, will be seen at the Ingomar tonight.

The story—a genuine Stephen Fox masterpiece—is a post-war narrative that pictures the home-coming of the athletic hero, fresh from the big fight, covered with medals and loaded down with honorable citations. Bored to death by the unremitting adulation that meets him at every turn, Captain November Jones takes measures to blast his hero reputation and acquire another for cowardice. However, when he sees the effect the latter "rep" has upon his budding romance, he sets about to achieve regeneration with twice the determination and speed he had displayed in effecting his disgrace.

The subject is delightfully timely, and the snappy, humorous treatment given it in "This Hero Stuff" is guaranteed to provoke a constant stream of chuckles and laughs.

To Our Patrons

Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1919.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Safe Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.
